The Cannabis Manifesto

There is little institutional investment in U.S. cannabis companies. There is a huge growth opportunity to profit, but Aaron is also excited about the medical benefits from cannabis – like pain relief, help with insomnia and PTSD, and even drinking less.

Ultra-marathoners are running faster and longer with cannabis.

Legalizing cannabis is going to have a huge impact on the economy. Jobs are being created and taxes are being collected.

Worker compensation claims have gone down in states that have legalized cannabis. And this proves that folks are self-medicating with alcohol and pills. Cannabis helps them become injured less... It's a remarkable data point.

Over 70% of all Americans believe that cannabis should be legalized.

Aaron claims that cannabis has changed his life to help him fight insomnia.

The opportunity for cannabis is so great, yet professional investors continue to ignore cannabis. If investors have patience, legalization is coming. And that means cannabis stocks will be trading on the NYSE and the Nasdaq.

Verano (VRNOF) is a cannabis company that is severely undervalued and could eventually become as big as a company like Draft Kings (DKNG) – worth $37 billion.

Cannabis has a 10-plus-year opportunity ahead of it. Right now, cannabis is a $100 billion revenue market – but only $25 billion is legal. And the legal market is growing rapidly. In the future, this will be a $200 billion market, with most of it legal.

There are great managed companies out there, with strong moats, trading at ridiculously low valuations... and that's why Aaron is jumping in with both feet to the cannabis space.

He says, "This is the decade of cannabis."

Aaron is launching a private investment fund on November 1 to take advantage of the opportunity in cannabis.
